Classes are organized in small groups, with a maximum of 10 students per group. Participants will be divided into different groups according to their Mandarin Chinese Level. The course will focus on the oral practice of everyday situations. Students who already have an Intermediate or Advanced Mandarin Chinese level can participate in Hutong School's Intensive Chinese Program. Otherwise, Hutong School will organize private classes 2 hours per day (a total of 20 lessons instead of 30).

Students will be challenged to practice what they've learned during the sightseeing and cultural activities organized in the afternoon, aiming at applying language learning to real life.
